Please Note:

Any modification or alteration to an existing structure must be done so in a way that will not take the structure out of established compliance. Please follow the design criteria below to ensure the structure remains compliant with the standards established by the manufacturer as regulated.

1. No portion of any new structure shall bear any load onto existing structure in any way. New structure must be completely self-supportive. The structure may have flashing attached only for weatherization. Plans showing the proposed attachment with calculations and a current-dated approval letter from the manufacturer or an approval (wet stamp) from a certified Professional Engineer are required if requesting an exception to this rule.
2. No existing windows, doors, walls and/or any other permanent structure may be removed, altered, covered, or added without prior approval by the Manufactured Housing Division (MHD). All lighting, ventilation, and egress openings must remain in compliance with governing codes.
3. All utility systems needed for use in new structures and additions must remain completely separate of any utility system of an existing mobile/manufactured home to include electrical, heating, cooling, gas plumbing, and potable plumbing or drainage. All new service connections for new structures must be supplied-by main property service feed or supply.
4. All notes and code requirements issued or labeled on all approved or disapproved submitted plans must be abided by unless otherwise noted by this division.
